Re: Chad Gasper / Editor

To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to recommend Chad Gasper for a the position of E! Staff Editor. In working with Chad for the past year on E! News – I can't tell you enough how efficient, creative and pleasant he has been to team up with.

Chad has always been my editor of choice when putting together packages for News – especially when time is of the essence. He is inventive and quick – always with a smile. We worked together, most specifically, on the Michael Jackson child molestation trial – which meant we put day-of-air stories together every day for 3 months. I rotated editors – but was always the most delighted when Chad's expertise lent itself to my stories. This was a challenging on-going project, in that every day we had essentially the same 10-15 images with which to work, yet we needed to make it look fresh for our viewers at home. Chad happily took suggestions but really excelled when his welcome initiative took over and finessed the segment.

E! News is lucky to have an editor like Chad to work with us every day – it would be a shame to lose him. I hope that he will remain a part of our team as a staff editor.

To Whom It May Concern:

Chad Gasper is one of the lead editors on E! News. I have supervised Chad's work on a daily basis for nearly a year and he is an excellent editor who is consistently creative, resourceful, and efficient.

Chad has raised the bar of creativity on our show. He is routinely given the lead package because he can create a visually stimulating package quickly. He also cut our open and bumpers to embody a younger, more vibrant energy and this was done with little oversight or guidance from a producer.

I highly recommend Chad for whatever your editing situation. Please feel free to call me with any questions.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to inform you of the incredible talent of Chad Gasper. Since his time working at E!, Chad has proven to be an exceptional addition to the team. He has a unique passion for his work, which shines through in every task he completes. He truly understands the vision of our network and his creativity has elevated the E! News brand. He constantly creates new graphics and transitions, which has inspired his fellow co-workers to strive to reach his level of editing. Chad is extremely trustworthy and I know whatever he touches will turn to gold. Not to mention, he works in a very quick, efficient manner. When we're in a crunch, have breaking news, or have a highly complicated piece, Chad is the editor we turn to. We are extremely lucky to have him at E! and I am truly honored to work with him on a daily basis.

Please feel free to contact me for further information of if you have any questions.

To Whom It May Concern:

If you are looking for one of the most talented editors in the business, which consistently creates dynamite television on a daily deadline, then you should look no further than to Chad Gasper. He's been working as a freelancer on E! News for more than a year and is the go-to guy for the show. I've worked side-by-side with Chad as a producer at E! News and am impressed with how well he handles the pressure of a deadline, the way he continually challenges himself by creating new ways to tell stories and most of all, the way the works with others. Chad is a team player and always is willingly to help in any capacity to get the show on the air.

There will always be a special place in my professional heart for Chad. I was once assigned a very complicated "2004 Year in Review" special. The story required multiple days of work to complete. Chad was assigned to start the project and then was told after his shift was over, he could just "pass it on" to the next shift. Instead of just passing it on, Chad literally worked around the clock and slept at E! to finish this special. Of course it was one of the most amazing pieces of television I have ever since, but that's not what impressed me the most: his commitment to excellence made the impression that will last a life time!

Chad Gasper is the best candidate for this job!

Sincerely,

Dear Sir or Madam,

As a Producer for E! News, I would like to submit this letter of recommendation for Chad Gasper, Staff Editor Candidate. After multiple conversations with Chad, I believe he would be an ideal individual for a staff position with E! Networks.

I have worked closely with Chad for almost a year, and I know he has a high regard for our show and the dedication to do great work. He is a talented and tenacious individual who always strives for the best product.

To work alongside Chad is to know you are working with the best. Watching Chad is inspiring and I trust him 110% with my work. I am never disappointed and am always amazed at what he can do. As an editor, he always goes beyond what is expected to make a segment extra special. With his enormous creativity, energy and enthusiasm, I believe Chad is asset to the E! News team. I could not imagine doing our show without him.

I highly recommend granting a staff position to Chad Gasper. His drive, perseverance and determination to succeed would make him a model staff employee and an ideal representative of E! Networks.

Regards,
